IMPORTANT !

TO BANKS, BANKERS AND MERCHANTS.

TERWILLIGER & CO.,

PATENTEES AND MANUFACTURERS OF

WELDED STEEL AND IRON

Burglar-Proof Safes,

BANK VAULTS, VAULT DOORS, &c.,

Manufactory, 180 to 192 WEST HOUSTON ST., NEW YORK

Depot: 100 Maiden Lane, NEW YORK.

84 WASHINGTON ST., CHICAGO, ILL.

Western Depot:

Our New and Improved Steel Outside Surface

are made upon an entirely New Principle, with solid angle Steel and Iron Frames, front and back, and secured by our Patent Welded Steel and Iron Twisted Conical Bolts.

The construction of the Safe is such that it effectually prevents either "Stripping," "Wedging," "Drilling," or "Breaking," (this cannot be said of any other Safe made,) and every one is sold subject to the severest practical tests.

Our Patent Combination of Steel and Iron, welded together, prevents the successful use of the tools of the Burglar; the hardened steel resisting the action of the drill or circular cutter while the tenacity of the wrought Iron secures the plates from being broken by the blows of a sledge or hammer.

Having been in the Safe business and connected with the working of Steel and Iron for many years, during which time we have made very many experiments and tests of these metals, we now believe we have constructed a Safe which will DEFY BURGLARS.

We also furnish and put on our Safes any Combination Locks desired at manufacturers' prices.

We are now making and are prepared to furnish any desired style of Burglar-Proof work from the above material, which we sell subject to public test, if desired. Bankers or Merchants in need of Burglar-Proof Safes will find it to their advantage to address or call upon us before purchasing elsewhere.

CAPITAL, $1,000,000. ASSETS, $1,500,000.

This Company takes Marine and Inland Navigation Risks on Merchandise, Freight, and Hulls of Vessels. On the payment of Premiums a Rebate or Discount on the current rates is made in cash as an equivalent for the Scrip Dividends of a Mutual Company. The amount of such Rebate, being fixed according to the character of the business, gives to Dealers a more just apportionment of profits than by the mutual system; and, being made in cash, on the payment of premium, is more than equivalent to the cash value of the average Scrip Dividends of Mutual Companies. Policies issued, making loss payable in Gold in this City, or in Sterling at the Office of the Company's Bankers, in Liverpool, if desired.

THE

MERCHANTS & BANKERS'

ALMANAC

FOR

1870.

"No expectation of forbearance or indulgence should be encouraged. Favor and benevolence are not the attributes of good banking. Strict justice and the rigid performance of contracts are its proper foundation."

"The revenue of the State is THE STATE; in effect, all depends upon it, whether for support or for reformation."

"Rightfully considered, no principle is more conservative than that which identifies the laborer with the capitalist."

* ACT PASSED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF NEW YORK, March 18, 1865. — Section 2.

"The following days, viz.: Any day appointed or recommended by the Governor of this State or the President of the United States, as a day of fast or thanksgiving; the fourth day of July; the twenty-fifth day of December, commonly called Christmas Day; the first day of January, commonly called New Year's Day, and the twenty-second day of February; and when the said fourth day of July, twenty-fifth day of December, first day of January, or the twenty-second day of February, shall occur on Sunday, then the ensuing day thereto, shall, for all purposes whatsoever, as regards the presenting for payment or acceptance, and of the protesting and giving notice of the dishonor of bills of exchange, bank checks, and promissory notes, made after the passage of this act, be treated and considered as is the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday. And any bill of exchange, bank check, or promissory note, made after the passage of this act, which but for this act would fall due and be payable on any of the days herein mentioned, shall, when said days fall on Sunday, become due and payable on the Tuesday next succeeding such days."

REPUDIATION. — In proportion precisely as an individual is beyond the reach of compulsory process, should he be inclined to disregard the technicalities of mere law, and base himself upon the broader principles of natural justice. This is still more necessary when an independent sovereignty is concerned; because it is more difficult to procure redress for wrongs committed by a State. The relation between debtor and creditor, in all cases involving the repose of confidence, is preëminently a fiduciary relation when the debtor is a sovereign commonwealth. It should be distinguished by that uberrima fides which scorns the strict letter of the contract and regards its spirit and intention. — Peleg W. Chandler.

SOCIAL ADVANCEMENT. — The multitude is rising from the dust. Once we heard of the few, now of the many; once, of the prerogatives of a part, now of the rights of all. We are looking, as never before, through the disguises, envelopments, of ranks and classes, to the common nature which is below them; and are beginning to learn that every being who partakes of it, has noble powers to cultivate, solemn duties to perform, inalienable rights to assert, a vast destiny to accomplish. The grand idea of humanity, of the importance of man as man, is spreading silently, but surely. — W. E. Channing.

"It may safely be affirmed that if ever the laws of GOD and man are at variance, the former are to be obeyed in derogation of the latter: that the law of GOD is, under all circumstances, superior in obligation to that of man: and that, consequently, if any general custom were opposed to the divine law, or if any statute were passed directly contrary thereto, such a custom or such an act would be void." — Blackstone.

LOOSE CONTRACTS. — "An aged judge is said to have remarked, ironically, that 'half the cases he had tried on the bench arose from good understanding between the parties;' and by this he meant, that half-made bargains and agreements lead to disagreement and litigation. Avoid misunderstandings from this source. Many, indeed most, of your transactions will be upon verbal contracts. But you may use words so terse, so precise, that misconception will be hardly possible." — Prize Essay on Banking, by Sabine.

LIBERTY. —" The seeds of liberty are plentifully sown. However severe the climate — however barren the soil of the regions in which they have been received, — such is the native exuberance of the plant, that it must eventually flourish with luxuriant profusion. The governments of Europe must fall; and the only remaining expedient in their power is to gather up their garments and fall with decency." — JOHN QUINCY ADAMS, 1793.

THE HUMAN MIND. — "There is nothing 'under Heaven's wide hollowness,' which does not furnish aliment for the mind; all that we observe by the organs of sense, and all that we perceive by the operations of the understanding; all that we contemplate in retrospect, at the present, or in the future, may be compounded or decomposed in the intellectual laboratory, for beneficial purposes." — DE WITT CLINTON, July, 1823.

INTERNAL IMPROVEMENT. — "It is that from which I am convinced that the unborn millions of our posterity, who are, in future ages, to people this continent, will derive their most fervent gratitude to the founders of the Union; that, in which the beneficent action of our government will be most deeply felt and acknowledged. The magnificence and splendor of their public works are among the imperishable glories of the ancient republics." — JOHN QUINCY ADAMS, March 4, 1825.

LIBERTY. — "We live not for ourselves alone. That which we call liberty, is that principle on which the essential security of our political condition depends. It results from the limitations of our political system, prescribed in the Constitution. These limitations, so long as they are faithfully observed, maintain order, peace, and safety. When they are violated, in essential particulars, all the concurrent spheres of authority rush against each other, and disorder, derangement, and convulsion are, sooner or later, the necessary consequences." — JOSIAH QUINCY, 1811.

PROGRESS. —"To us in part a great trust has been confided — the welfare of our country and of generations yet to come. Nay, the world looks to us as to a great example, whence to draw the oracles of political truth. Fill, then, the measure which has been assigned you. Never tire till there is nothing to be done; and when you shall have reared a monument of beneficent legislation, if it be in the order of Providence that we, too, in our turn shall be involved in the darkness of slavery and superstition, let us hope that our labors, though obscured for a season in the general gloom, may survive the eclipse, and become the guide of some future deliverer of his country." — JAMES BARBOUR, of VIRGINIA, 1827.

NATHANIEL HAYDEN, President of the Chatham National Bank.

The Clearing-House Association is composed of sixty banks, representing an aggregate capital of $82,720,000. Of this number, thirteen are organized under the banking-laws of the State of NEW YORK, and the remainder (forty-seven) under the National Banking Law.

At the time of its organization, fifty-two banks composed the association, with an aggregate capital of $49,103,362; $33,616,638 less than its present capital.

The first weekly statement published by the associated banks was on Oct. 15, 1853, and was as follows: —

Capital, $49,103,362. Loans and Discounts, $87,837,273. Specie, $11,330,172. Circulation and Net Deposits, $46,900,212.

The statement on Oct. 13, 1866, was, —

Capital, $81,770,000. Loans and Discounts, $276,443,219. Specie and Legal-Tenders, $88,756,424. Circulation and Net Deposits, $257,035,805.

On Oct. 5, 1867, —

Capital, $81,770,200. Loans and Discounts, $247,934,369. Specie and Legal-Tenders, $66,222,188. Circulation and Net Deposits, $212,503,003.

On Oct. 3, 1868, —

Loans and Discounts, $269,553,868. Specie and Legal-Tenders, $71,997,782. Circulation and Net Deposits, $229,073,983.

Oct. 2, 1869, —

Loans and Discounts, $255,239,649. Specie and Legal-Tenders, $70,111,937. Circulation and Net Deposits, $217,293,917.

The percentage of specie to net liabilities on Oct. 15, 1853, was 24.16 per cent. The percentage of specie and legal-tenders, Oct. 13, 1866, was 34.53 per cent; Oct. 5, 1867, was 31.16 per cent; and Oct. 3, 1868, was 31.43 per cent; and Oct. 2, 1869, 32.27 per cent.

The circulation of the banks of the association, previous to the passage of the "National Currency Act," averaged about $8,000,000. The smallest amount of circulation reported in the weekly statement was, $2,720,666, on March 4, 1865.

The largest amount was in the statement of April 3, 1869, viz.: $34,816,916.

The following twelve banks are the only ones in the city that are not members of the "Clearing-House" association:—

1. Eleventh Ward Bank.
2. Bull's Head Bank.
3. New-York County Nat. Bank.
4. Fifth National Bank.
5. Sixth National Bank.

BOSTON SEMI-ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

From The Boston Daily Advertiser.

The banks have done a profitable business, as usual, and added materially to their surplus fund, besides paying the usual large dividends. The capital stock on which the dividends were made is, in October, 1869, $3,050,000 larger than in April. Within the past year, the following banks have increased their capital: Continental National, Oct. 1, 1868, increased from $500,000 to $1,000,000; Boston National, Dec. 1, 1868, from $750,000 to $1,000,000; Shawmut National, Jan. 1, 1869, from $750,000 to $1,000,000; Freeman's National, April 1, 1869, from $400,000 to $600,000; National Revere, April 1, 1869, from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000; Second National, April 1, 1869, from $1,000,000 to $1,600,000; National Bank of Republic, April 5, 1869, from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000; Atlas National, Oct. 1, 1869, from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000; Blackstone National, Oct. 1, 1869, from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000; Howard National, Oct. 1, 1869, $750,000 to $1,000,000; National Hide and Leather, Oct. 1, 1869, from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000. Of the above, only the Freeman's, Republic, Revere, Second National, and Shawmut pay on increased capital since April last. The total increase within the year ending Oct. 1 will be $5,050,000.

The percentage of dividends payable in October shows little variation from those paid in April. The Everett increases from 3½ to 4 per cent. The North has reduced from 5 to 4 per cent, owing to the recent defalcation. The Republic pays 5 per cent on the increased capital of $1,500,000. Last March, it divided 55 per cent in stock, before which the semi-annual dividends had been 6 per cent for several years. The Revere doubled its capital in April, and now pays 4 per cent on $2,000,000, instead of 6 as on the old capital. The Second National, Freeman's, and Shawmut pay an increased capital and the same rate as before. The Hide and Leather passes its October dividend, but will come into the regular list in April next. To-day its capital stands at par on the books, with nearly a million of Government bonds, valued at par. Its success in recovering its position shows the efficiency of its managers, and must prove very gratifying to stockholders.

The Government will pay, on the 1st of November, $25,426,280 in interest on about $847,542,650 November five-twenties. The State of Massachusetts and City of Boston pay the interest on their bonds in specie. The gold payments amount to $132,138. The City of Charlestown will pay interest on a portion of its 5 and 6 per cent bonds. Interest on St. Louis City sixes of 1887 is also due Oct. 1, payable in New York.

THE RAILROADS OF THE UNITED STATES.

Manual of the Railroads of the United States for 1869–70; showing their Mileage, Stocks, Bonds, Cost, Traffic, Earnings, Expenses, and Organizations, with a Sketch of their Rise, Progress, Influences, &c.; together with an Appendix, containing a full Analysis of the Debts of the United States and of the several States, by HENRY V. POOR. One volume octavo, pp. 600. Price, Five Dollars.

From the opening of the first railroad, in 1830, to 1848, inclusive, a period of 19 years, 5,996 miles of line had been completed; being an average of 310 miles annually. From 1848 to the breaking out of the great civil war, a period of twelve years, 24,637 miles of railroad were opened, being at the rate of 2,053 miles annually. During the war, the mileage constructed fell off largely. No lines of any importance were opened in the South. The aggregate mileage constructed since 1860, a period of eight years, has been 11,642, an average of 1,455 yearly. During the past year, 2,979 miles have been constructed, — a greater number than for any previous year, with one exception. The activity and enterprise so strikingly displayed from 1848 to 1860 has again taken full possession of our people. There never was, in fact, so large an amount of mileage in progress as at the present moment.

The following tables will show the number of miles of railroad in operation in the UNITED STATES, and in the several States, for each year since 1830; also the ratio of such mileage to the area and population of the several States: —

Year.	Miles in operation.	Annual increase of mileage.	Year.	Miles in operation.	Annual increase of mileage.	Year.	Miles in operation.	Annual increase of mileage.

FROM THE OFFICE OF THE SHIPPING AND COMMERCIAL LIST,

No. 4 Cedar Street, New-York, Sept. 11, 1869.

The Annual Statement of the Cotton Crop of the United States for the year just closed gives the figures in detail for the whole Crop of the Country, whether consumed West or East, or shipped to Foreign Ports, except that portion of the growth consumed in the interior of the cotton-growing States, taken from the plantations, and never brought to any point of distribution. We also give an estimate of the amount so consumed, including that taken for domestic use, burnt at the gins, &c.; and, as mills are constantly springing up nearer the places of production, this item is gradually increasing. To get at the total production of the country, this must be added to the amount we give as the crop of the United States. In the crop proper is included the amount consumed in the interior of New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, &c., this item being counted at the usual distributing points of the South-west (Tennessee, &c.), and appearing as consumption "North of the Potomac and Ohio Rivers," part of it even finding its way to Canada. Pretty large amounts are shipped inland, direct to Northern and Eastern mills; for instance, 1,887 bales were thus shipped the past year by railroad from Mobile to New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Providence, &c., against 5,287 the year before. The quantity going from the South-west is included in our shipments from Tennessee, &c.

It will be understood, that, with increasing facilities of inter-communication every year, it is impossible to arrive at the growth of each State separately, though the shipments, &c., are necessarily arranged in that way. The time may come when this very desirable result may be attained, and the crops of the separate States, as well as of the country, arrived at with some degree of exactness.

The large item of Virginia receipts will arrest the attention of those concerned in the cotton trade; for while the growth of the State has not probably exceeded 30,000 bales, her shipments and consumption are placed by our statement at 160,418 bales, most of it coming inland from South Carolina, North Carolina, and East Tennessee, and not otherwise accounted for, but including this year 34,707 bales direct from Memphis and Nashville. We have deducted this amount from Tennessee, &c., instead of from the receipts proper at Virginia, for the sake of uniformity of comparison, these amounts having been credited to Virginia through the season in all the weekly tables of receipts. The result, of course, is the same either way. Some 20,000 bales have gone this year to Virginia from small railroad stations in Tennessee, &c., which last year were shipped Northward direct by rail from Nashville.

It will be seen that the crop of Florida, as given above, is much smaller than our current figures of receipts, as published in our weekly table, have heretofore indicated. This arises from the fact that most of the shipments from Fernandina have been credited to Florida, in our table, whereas the great bulk of the cotton received there was from Mobile, via Florida Railroad.

NEW BANKING-FIRMS.

THE BANKERS' MAGAZINE will contain, occasionally, a list, carefully prepared, of new banking-firms in New-York City and throughout the United States. No charge is made for publishing these names, provided the name of the New-York Correspondent is furnished.

Subscribers are requested to send the names of new firms in their respective States, as items of useful information to banks and bankers generally.

THE MERCHANTS AND BANKERS' ALMANAC for 1870 contains the name of two hundred new banking-firms. It also contains the names of newly organized National and State banks, and the recent changes of President and Cashier, so far as reported.

Envelopes addressed to all the National and State banks, and to the private bankers in the United States, including all new firms, to date, and to the Insurance Companies and the Railroad Companies of the United States, may be had at the office of "The Bankers' Magazine," New York.

EMINENT MERCHANTS AND BANKERS.

BRIEF SKETCHES OF THE LIVES OF EMINENT MERCHANTS AND BANKERS, WHOSE PORTRAITS, ENGRAVED ON STEEL, ARE CONTAINED IN THE ILLUSTRATED EDITION OF "THE MERCHANTS AND BANKERS' ALMANAC FOR 1870." Price Five Dollars. Only 250 copies printed.

For more ample materials relating to the persons named, the render may, with advantage, consult Hunt's "Lives of American Merchants," N.Y., 1856; Parton's "Famous Americans of Recent Times," Boston, 1867; also, Appleton's valuable "Cyclopædia of Commercial and Business Anecdotes," N.Y., 1868, containing notices of Merchants, Traders, Bankers, Mercantile Celebrities, Millionnaires, &c. 8vo, 770 pp.

"Long life to Commerce! What lives not through it? What is all fresh life, all movement in reality, but trade, exchange, gift for gift."—BREMER.

"The man who has not any thing to boast of but his illustrious ancestors is like a potato; as the only good belonging to him is under the ground."—SIR THOMAS OVERBURY.

"Money is none of the wheels of trade: it is the oil which renders the motion of the wheels more smooth and easy."—HUME.

"Then would he be a broker, and draw in Both wares and money, by exchange to win."—SPENSER.

"Whole droves of lenders crowd the banker's doors."—DRYDEN.

"Long has this worthy been conversant in bartering, and knows that when stocks are lowest it is the time to buy."—TATLER.

"Of plain, sound sense life's current coin is made;
With that we drive the most substantial trade."—YOUNG.

"Liberal trade is good scholarship popularized; and commerce is literature on a sign-board."

"Creditors have better memories than debtors, and creditors are a superstitious set,—great observers of set days and times."—FRANKLIN.

"There is no man who is not in some degree a merchant,—who has not something to buy or something to sell."—JOHNSON.

"Little that is truly noble can be expected from one who is ever poring over his cash-book, or balancing his accounts."

"Of all the bonds by which society is united, those of business connection are the most numerous and most extensive."—ROSCOE.

"Sweet is the destiny of all trades, whether of the brow or of the mind."—BISHOP HALL.

"Work for some good, be it ever so lowly;
Labor, all labor, is noble and holy."—OSGOOD.

I. — WILLIAM APPLETON OF MASSACHUSETTS.

1786–1862.

William Appleton was a prominent merchant of Boston, and also a member of Congress from that city in the years 1851–53, and was again elected to the 37th Congress, but resigned, after sitting through the extra session in 1861. Mr. Appleton died 1862, aged seventy-six years.

II. — JOHN JACOB ASTOR OF NEW YORK.

1763–1848.

"Sibi uni fortunam debit."

John Jacob Astor was born at Waldorf, near Heidelberg, in Baden, July 17, 1763, of humble parents, and came to Baltimore in 1784, commencing business as a fur-trader. He made frequent voyages up the Mohawk River, to trade with the Indians (then resident in the State of New York), and extended his business to the Columbia River, founding Astoria. Washington Irving has recorded the overland journeys projected by Mr. Astor to the Pacific. Previous to the war of 1812, he had ships in the Canton trade. Their safe arrivals during the war gave him increased wealth. He purchased government stocks at sixty to seventy cents per dollar, which, after the war, were worth a premium. His chief wealth was from the purchases of real estate in the city of New York.

"Crescit amor nummi, quantum ipsa pecunia crescit."

These investments, under his own management, and under the subsequent management of his son, Mr. W. B. Astor, have proved very profitable. Mr. Astor, senior, left, by his will, $400,000, to found the Astor Library, — a bequest which has been a great advantage to the people. He died in New York, March 29, 1848, aged eighty-four years. His son, Wm. B. Astor, added liberally to the library fund, whereby its usefulness has been largely increased.

III. — WILLIAM B. ASTOR OF NEW YORK.

Mr. William B. Astor is a son of the late John Jacob Astor, and is a native of New-York City. The former inherited large wealth from his father, — a fortune which has rapidly accumulated through profitable investments in real estate in the city of New York.

Mr. Astor is yet in the vigor of life, and, with his sons, gives personal attention to the management of an estate which is popularly considered as the largest held by any one individual in the UNITED STATES.

Mr. JOHN JACOB ASTOR provided by his will for the erection and maintenance of the present Astor Library. This bequest was faithfully executed; and the institution is an honor to the city, and a monument to the liberality of the testator. Mr. WILLIAM B. ASTOR has liberally added to the property and funds of this institution, which now presents a front of one hundred and thirty feet on La-Fayette Place, and contains about one hundred and fifty thousand volumes, to which all respectable members of the community have free access and use without charge.

IV. — JACOB BARKER OF NEW ORLEANS.

JACOB BARKER is a descendant of the Quakers. He was a resident of New-York City forty years ago, and took up his residence at New Orleans, where he now resides. At the age of sixteen years, he came to New York, a poor boy, and got employment in the counting-room of ISAAC HICKS, a merchant of this city. He commenced business for himself before his majority, and was soon in possession of four ships and a brig. In the year 1801, Aug. 27, he married ELIZABETH HAZARD, daughter of THOS. HAZARD. After the war Mr. BARKER engaged as a banker, and unfortunately lost his credit, and was prosecuted for his participation in the affairs of certain insurance companies.

Many years afterwards he removed to New Orleans, and was elected to Congress after the rebellion, but was declared ineligible. During the war of 1812, the credit of Mr. BARKER was of the highest. In connection with Mr. GIRARD, Mr. J. J. ASTOR, Mr. PARISH, and others, he bid for the loans of 1813–1815. He is yet a resident of New Orleans, but failed as a broker since the rebellion.

V. — NICHOLAS BIDDLE OF PENNSYLVANIA.

1786–1844.

"Cum fortuna perit nullus amicus erit."

NICHOLAS BIDDLE was the son of CHARLES BIDDLE of Philadelphia, a Whig of the Revolution, and was born Jan. 8, 1786. At the age of nineteen, the son was Secretary to Gen. ARMSTRONG, in his mission to Paris. On his return, he studied law, and devoted himself much to literary pursuits, for a time editing "The Portfolio." In 1819, President MONROE appointed him one of the directors of the Bank of the UNITED STATES; and in 1823 Mr. BIDDLE succeeded Mr. CHEVES as President of the institution, a post which he filled sixteen years. Under his management, and the hostility of Gen. Jackson, the bank was wound up at the expiration of its charter in 1836. The Pennsylvania Bank of the United States, its successor, failed in 1839. He wrote "The Commercial Digest." He died at Andalusia, near Philadelphia, Feb. 27, 1844, aged fifty-eight years, leaving a high character for ability and integrity.

The arbitrary removal of the public deposits from the Bank U.S., in September, 1833, by order of President Jackson, was condemned by the Senate; and Secretary Taney, who had effected the removal, was rejected by the Senate in 1834, as Secretary of the Treasury.

VI.—NATHANIEL BOWDITCH, LL.D., OF MASSACHUSETTS.

1773–1838.

Nathaniel Bowditch was born at Salem, Mass., March 26, 1773. He was president of the American Academy. The son of a shipmaster, he had only a limited education. From 1795, he spent nine years in a seafaring life. He was president of a marine insurance company from 1804 to 1823, when he became actuary, for the rest of his life, of the Massachusetts Hospital Life Insurance Company. By his extraordinary genuis and industry, he became acquainted with Latin, Greek, French, Italian, Spanish, Portuguese, and German languages, and was one of the most eminent of mathematicians and astronomers. He published "The Practical Navigator" in 1802, and various communications in the Memoirs of the American Academy; and, at his own expense, a translation of the "Mecanique Celeste" of La Place, with a commentary in four large quarto volumes. His work on navigation has been a text-book for fifty years. He died at Boston, March 16, 1838, aged nearly sixty-five years, highly respected for his integrity and talents.—Appleton's Cyclopædia of Biography.

VII.—PETER CHARDON BROOKS OF MASSACHUSETTS.

1767–1849.

Peter Chardon Brooks was a native of Medford, Mass., Jan. 6, 1767. He opened an insurance office as broker, in Boston, when he had attained his majority in 1789, and afterwards became secretary and president. He was very successful, and retired from business in 1803, in early life, a man of great wealth; yet he was afterwards, for a few years, the president of the New-England Insurance Company, the first company of the kind in the State. He retired from active business in 1803, at the early age of thirty-six years. For the remainder of his long life he lived in summer at Medford, and in the winter season in Boston. As a member of the State Senate, and chairman of a committee, he did great service to the cause of public virtue, by his report on the "Plymouth Beach Lottery." It put an end to all grants of lotteries in Massachusetts. Mr. BROOKS was a member of the Federal party. The following were his main principles in business: To abstain from all speculative investments; to take no more than the legal interest on his loans; and never to borrow money. Mr. BROOKS was an expert accountant, and kept all his account-books with his own hand, to the close of his life. As a man, he was highly respected and esteemed. His three daughters were married to EDWARD EVERETT, CHARLES F. ADAMS, and Dr. N. L. FROTHINGHAM. His life by Mr. EDWARD EVERETT, with a portrait, is in "Lives of American Merchants," by FREEMAN HUNT, pp. 133–183. He died in Boston, Jan. 1, 1849, aged eighty-two years.

VIII.—JONAS CHICKERING OF MASSACHUSETTS.

1798–1853.

JONAS CHICKERING was born April 5, 1798, at New Ipswich, N.H. He descended from Dr. JOHN CHICKERING of Charlestown, who was the son of HENRY of Dedham, as early as 1635. At the age of twenty, he removed to Boston and entered the trade of cabinetmaker, and became a piano-forte manufacturer in the year 1819. One act of his beneficence is gratefully recorded by RICHARD STORRS WILLIS, who, after his graduation at college, meeting with Mr. CHICKERING, and explaining, at his request, his projects in life, and his wish to study music, Mr. CHICKERING instantly offered him 500 dollars a year, for four years, to support him in his studies abroad.

"Bis est gratum, quod opus est, si ultro offeras."

Mr. WILLIS was, in 1854, editor of "The New-York Musical World." Mr. CHICKERING's partner, Capt. MACKAY, was lost at sea, in the year 1841. His piano-forte manufactory was destroyed by fire, at Boston, Dec. 1, 1852. Mr. CHICKERING's life, by J. L. BLAKE, is in "Lives of American Merchants." He died at Boston, Dec. 8, 1853, aged fifty-six years. He was so much respected as a citizen, that his funeral was the largest ever known in Boston. Mr. CHICKERING was succeeded in business by his sons, now the firm of CHICKERING & SONS, Boston, with a branch house in East Fourteenth Street, New York. The extent of their business may be inferred from the fact, that Mr. CHICKERING and his successors have manufactured over thirty-five thousand piano-fortes; and the reputation of their instruments is exceeded by none in the world.

IX.—PETER COOPER OF NEW YORK.

PETER COOPER, an American manufacturer, was born in Little Dock Street, New-York City, Feb. 12, 1791, the fifth of a family of nine children. His maternal grandfather, JOHN CAMPBELL, was mayor of New York, and deputy quartermaster-general during the Revolutionary war. His father was a lieutenant in the war of the Revolution; after the close of which, he established a hat manufactory, in which his youthful son, PETER, aided. The latter attended school one half of each day for a single year; and, beyond the limited knowledge thus gained, his acquisitions are all his own. At the age of seventeen, he was placed with JOHN WOODWOOD to learn the trade of coachmaking, and served his apprenticeship much to the satisfaction of his master. Mr. COOPER'S attention was early called to the great resources of this country for the manufacture of iron; and, in 1830, he erected extensive works at Canton, a suburb of Baltimore, Md. He subsequently became a school commissioner; and, feeling that no common-school system could supply a technological education, he resolved to establish, in his native city, an institution in which the working-classes could secure that instruction for which, when young and ambitious, he sought in vain. He accordingly built, at a cost of $500,000, the Cooper Institute, which covers an entire block in the city of New York. This institute provides liberally for the instruction of young men and women, in the higher branches of education and in the arts, WITHOUT CHARGE; and is a noble monument to the benevolence, wisdom, and foresight of its far-famed founder. Mr. COOPER is now in his seventy-ninth year, and is yet actively engaged in business,

"Open as day for melting charity."

X. — THOMAS PYM COPE OF PENNSYLVANIA.

1768–1854.

THOMAS PYM COPE, an eminent and honored Philadelphia merchant, was a native of Lancaster County, Pa., Aug. 6, 1768, and traced his descent on both sides from the "Friends," and from JOHN PYM, the celebrated Parliamentarian, whose name is connected with that of STRAFFORD. His ancestor, OLIVER COPE, was one of the first purchasers from WILLIAM PENN. The education of Mr. COPE was good. It included a general round of English studies, the German language, and an amount of Latin which was deemed necessary as a foundation of a good education. In 1790, Mr. COPE began business at Philadelphia, and built for his own use the store at the corner of Second Street and Jones Alley. In this location he continued till 1807; at which time he built his first ship, named for his native county, "Lancaster." In 1807, Mr. COPE was again called into public life by being elected a member of the State Legislature. In 1821, Philadelphia was indebted to Mr. COPE for the first line of packet-ships between that city and Liverpool. About 1810, he removed his place of business to Walnut-street Wharf. It was what was called an unlucky place, yet it was identified with his subsequent prosperity. Mr. COPE was one one of the early and strong friends of the Mercantile Library, of which he was the president from its foundation till his death. He was also president for many years of the Board of Trade. Prudence was a leading principle in Mr. Cope's plan of business. Mr. Cope died Nov. 22, 1854.*

XI. — ERASTUS CORNING OF NEW YORK.

Mr. Corning was born in Norwich, Conn., in the year 1794; which place he left when a boy, in 1807, and became a clerk in a hardware store in Troy, N.Y. In 1814, he removed to Albany, and went into the employment of John Spencer & Co., an extensive hardware and iron concern. He became a partner in the house in 1816, and the firm's name was changed to Erastus Corning & Co. In 1834, Mr. Corning was elected Mayor of Albany. In 1833, he was made vice-president of the New-York State Bank, but retired from this position in 1834, to assume the presidency of the Albany City Bank, which office he has held to this time with great advantage to that institution. In 1833, he was elected president of the Utica and Schenectady Railroad Company, an enterprise which he was chiefly instrumental in carrying out, as the first railroad in the State of New York. He was a member of the State Senate from 1841 to 1845. He has been prominent as a conservative Democrat, and has been, at various times, selected as delegate to National Conventions. He is a man of singular energy and determination of character. As the head of the New-York Central Railroad Company, he has become widely known. Mr. Corning represented the Albany District in Congress in the years 1859–1864, but resigned on account of ill health, and was succeeded by his son-in-law, Mr. John V. L. Pruyn. Mr. Corning has held the honorable position of regent of the University of New York, and was a member of the State Constitutional Convention of 1867.

XII. — JEEJEEBHOY DADABHOY.

1785–1849.

Jeejeebhoy Dadabhoy, of Bombay, was a Parsee banker, merchant, agent, and broker, for more than forty years, and sustained important business relations with numerous mercantile houses in Europe. So extensive were his commercial transactions, that his name was well known in the leading cities of England, France, Germany, Austria, Egypt, India, China, Mauritius, &c. His death occurred in the year 1849: a few years prior to which he retired from the firm of Jeejeebhoy Dadabhoy, Sons, & Co. He was one of the most active in the establishment of the various banks in Bombay, and was a director in the Oriental Bank and the Commercial Bank. He was a large shareholder in the railway-companies, steam-navigation companies, Bombay marine and life insurance companies, and other corporations in Bombay, Calcutta, and other ports. At the time of his death, forty-two schools, in various portions of the Bombay presidency, were wholly supported by his bounty. He left a widow, four sons, three daughters, twenty-one grandchildren, and six great-grandchildren, to whom he bequeathed immense wealth. — Appleton's Cyclopædia of Anecdotes.

* See sketch and portrait, of T. P. Cope, in Hunt's "Lives of American Merchants," N.Y. 1856, by J. R. Chandler of Philadelphia.

XIII. — LORENZO DE MEDICI.

1448–1492.

Lorenzo the Magnificent, son and successor of Peter, was born 1444, and governed the State in conjunction with his brother Julian, till the latter was assassinated by the Pazzi in 1478. Escaping from this massacre, the former sustained a war with Ferdinand of Naples, with whom he signed a definitive peace in 1480. He then devoted himself to the prosecution of plans for the advancement of learning and the arts; revived the Academy of Pisa; founded another at Florence; collected a vast treasure of literature, and founded a gallery of art, in which the taste of Michael Angelo was formed, under his patronage. He died, universally beloved and honored, in the zenith of his renown, 1492. His life has been written by Roscoe. He had three sons, — John (who became Pope), Julian, and Peter. The latter, Peter II., succeeded Lorenzo, and was deprived of his estates when the French invaded Italy in 1494. The latter finished his career in the service of France, and was drowned in 1504, leaving two sons, — Lorenzo and Cosmo. — Appleton's Cyclopædia of Anecdotes.

XIV. — THOMAS DOWSE OF MASSACHUSETTS.

1772–1856.

Thomas Dowse, an American mechanic, was born the 28th December, 1772, in Charlestown, Mass. At the age of six, Thomas was severely injured by a fall from a tree; and, a rheumatic fever setting in, a lameness resulted, which continued through life. At the proper age, he began to work with his father at his trade; and formed, at the same time, a taste for reading, which he indulged with so much eagerness, that, by the age of eighteen, he had read all the books he could procure in Sherburne. He had no education but what could be obtained at the town school. He continued to live at home, as an apprentice, till he had attained his majority. He was then seized with a desire to visit foreign countries, and was offered a free passage from Norfolk, Va., to London: but, being too poor to pay his passage to Norfolk, and by land, he lost the opportunity: another opportunity never presented itself. He immediately sought employment in the business in which he had been brought up, and continued to work at it till he was seventy years of age. He contributed largely to the early development of cotton manufactures in the UNITED STATES. He died, with a handsome fortune, in 1856, aged eighty-four years.

XV. — ROBERT FULTON OF NEW YORK.

1765–1815.

ROBERT FULTON, a celebrated engineer, was born in the year 1765, in Little Britain, Lancaster Co., Pa., and was of Irish descent. His genius disclosed itself at an early period. At the age of twenty-one, he repaired to London, to place himself under the guidance of BENJAMIN WEST, the painter. He spent two years in Devonshire, where he became acquainted with the Duke of Bridgewater (noted for his labors in internal improvements), and with Lord STANHOPE. In 1793 he was engaged in the project of improving inland navigation; and in 1794 obtained patents for a double inclined plane, and for machines for spinning flax and making ropes. In 1796, his work on Canals was published. He went to Paris, 1797, and remained there seven years, studying chemistry, physic, and mathematics, and acquiring a knowledge of the French, Italian, and German languages. In Dec., 1797, he made his first experiment on submarine explosion, in the Seine. In 1807, he made his first successful voyage by steam on the Hudson River. In Feb., 1809, he took out his first patent. In 1810 he published his "Torpedo War." In 1811–12, he built two steam ferry-boats for crossing the Hudson, and was employed in improving his submarine boat when he died, which was in 1815, aged fifty.

"Ingenio stat sine morte decus."

Mr. FULTON was one of the benefactors of his age. His genius conceived and brought into operation the power of steam as a propellor. Few men, at any time in the world, have contributed more than Mr. FULTON in aid of the development of the resources of his country. It was by his persistent energy and inventive genius that steam has become the great promoter of internal and foreign trade. He has thus added thousands of millions to the wealth of the country. Neither his native State, nor the great State of NEW YORK, — which he so largely benefited by his labors, — nor the Congress of the UNITED STATES, has yet acknowledged the genius of FULTON by a suitable monument to his memory.

"Nobilitas morum plus ornat quam genitorum."

XVI. — ALBERT GALLATIN OF NEW YORK.

1761–1849.

Albert Gallatin was born Jan. 29, 1761, in Switzerland. His ancestor, John Gallatin, Secretary to the Duke of Savoy, emigrated to Geneva. Graduating in 1779, Mr. Albert Gallatin came to America in 1780. He commanded a fort at Machias, Me.; then became a tutor in French at Cambridge, Mass.; thence he proceeded to Virginia. Receiving now his patrimony, he made the purchase of new lands. He settled in Fayette County, on the Monongahela River, near Pittsburg, and became soon a prominent member of the legislature of Pennsylvania, and then a member of Congress. In 1793, he was a Senator of the United States for a short time. In 1801, Mr. Jefferson called him in to be Secretary of the Treasury. This office he filled with distinguished honor until 1813, when he was sent, with others, to negotiate with Great Britain, under the mediation of Russia; and he afterwards assisted at Ghent in the treaty of peace of 1814. From 1816 to 1823, he was minister at Paris. After 1828, he became a citizen of New York. He was President of the National Bank from 1831 till he was succeeded by his son James in 1839; he was also President of the New-York Historical Society. Mr. Gallatin died at Astoria, Long Island, Aug. 12, 1849, aged eighty-eight years.

XVII. — STEPHEN GIRARD OF PENNSYLVANIA.

1750–1831.

"Bona nomina mala fiunt, si non Apelles."

Stephen Girard, "mariner and merchant," as he styled himself in his will, was born May 21st, 1750, near Bordeaux, in France, the eldest of five children. His parents were in humble life, and his education was quite limited. At the age of twelve, he left home for the West Indies, employed as a cabin-boy in a merchant-vessel. He afterwards became mate and captain of a small vessel. He settled in Philadelphia, in the year 1769, and engaged in trade. He was successful in his operations, and, in 1791, was engaged in building ships for the Calcutta and China trade. In 1813, one of his ships was captured by British cruisers in Delaware Bay, and was ransomed by Mr. Girard for $93,000. In April, 1813, Mr. Girard bid for the Government loan of eight millions; and, at other times in the war, he made bids, in connection with J. J. Astor and David Parish, in aid of the Government funds.

The building now occupied by the Girard National Bank was built by Mr. Girard in 1795, for the first United-States Bank. Mr. Girard died Dec. 26, 1831, aged eighty-one years. Mr. Girard left a fortune estimated at many millions of dollars, his executors being Timothy Paxson, Thomas P. Cope, Joseph Roberts, William J. Duane, and John A. Barclay. He bequeathed $30,000 to the Pennsylvania Hospital; $20,000 to the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb; $10,000 to the public schools of Philadelphia; $10,000 to the Orphan's Asylum; $10,000 to the Society for the Relief of Distressed Masters of Ships; $20,000 to the Masonic Loan; $300,000 to the State, for internal improvements; and about two millions of dollars for the establishment of a college for the benefit of orphans, — now known as the Girard College. An elaborate biographical notice of Mr. Girard may be found in Hunt's "Lives of American Merchants," pp. 227–294.

The annual income of the Girard College is now over two hundred thousand dollars,* — a sum that enables the trustees to dispense the benefits of education to a large number of orphans without charge. The directors are eighteen in number, appointed by the City Council; six of these go out of office every year. The number of scholars is about two hundred. The college has already, in part, and nobly, fulfilled the object of Mr. Girard, who, in his will, said, "I desire that, by every proper means, a pure attachment to our republican institutions and to the sacred right of conscience, as guaranteed by our happy constitution, shall be formed and fostered in the minds of the scholars."

XVIII. — JOHN GRIGG OF PENNSYLVANIA

1792–1864.

John Grigg, the well-known bookseller of Philadelphia, began life an orphan farmer-boy. He was born at St. Stephens, Cornwall, England, Dec. 7, 1792. A restless spirit drove him to the water, and he early exchanged the monotonous life of the farmer for the excitement of that of a sailor. Amid the perils of the Bay of Biscay, and the tempests of the West Indies, he had ample opportunities, by which he did not fail to profit, to become thoroughly versed in the whole art of seamanship. We do not know how long his experience in reefing and steering lasted. Some thirteen months of his early life were passed at Richmond, Va. Being poor, and having his own way to make in the world, he left Richmond and went to Ohio, eager for the fray of life. There we find him engaged in the duties of clerk of the Court of Common Pleas and Chancery of Warren County, O., with the sole charge of this responsible office. In 1815, Mr. Grigg became superintendent of Mr. Scott's establishment at Georgetown. He was also founder of the celebrated publishing-house of Grigg & Elliott, and of J. B. Lippincott & Co. In 1836, he entered extensive tracts of the public lands in Sangamon County, Ill. Mr. Grigg's uniform fairness and liberality made him universally popular. He died at Philadelphia, his adopted city, August 2, 1864, aged seventy-two years, highly respected for his integrity and prominent business qualities.

XIX.—HENRY GRINNELL OF NEW YORK.

Mr. Grinnell has been conspicuous as an advocate of voyages of discovery towards the North Pole. He contributed $10,000 towards the outfit of the expedition of Lieut. De Haven, in 1850.

Grinnell Land is a tract of land in the Arctic Ocean, separated from Washington Land by Kennedy Channel. Its discovery has been claimed by both English and American explorers. Grinnell Land was seen by the first American Grinnell Expedition in search of Sir John Franklin, under Lieut. De Haven, while in latitude 75° 24′ 21″ north, Sept. 22, 1850; and, eight months later, was visited by Captain Penny, in the British vessel, "Lady Franklin." This officer, ignorant of its previous discovery, gave it the name of Prince Albert Land. Dr. Kane, in his second expedition, in 1854, explored and mapped it towards the west and north, in longitude 76° west, and as far north as latitude 82° 30″, the nearest point to the pole yet discovered. An open polar sea, wholly free from ice, abounding in animal life, and separated from the nearest southern land by a solid ice-belt, 125 miles wide, beats against its coasts, which tend in a west and north-west direction; while, in the distance, a chain of mountains rises above the clouds. Mr. Grinnell has for some years acted as the New York agent of the Liverpool and London Insurance Company.

XX.—WILLIAM F. HARNDEN OF MASSACHUSETTS.

DIED 1847.

"Hic telam tuxuit, ille deduxit."

William F. Harnden is noted as the originator of the express business in the United States. It was his genius that conceived the plan originally; and although upon an exceedingly limited scale, yet he no doubt had the earliest conception of the system, and a correct idea of its great importance in future years to the commercial community. As the internal commerce of the country is now carried on, the express system is essential. It saves vast labor and trouble and expense, not only to business-men, but to thousands of individuals who are not engaged in trade.

Mr. Harnden was, in the year 1839, a conductor on the Boston and Worcester Railroad. In February of that year he commenced the express business in a small way. He advertised that he would forward goods, drafts, notes, &c., four times per week between New York and Boston, via Boston and Providence Railroad and steamboats from Providence, and attend personally to all orders. At that time there was no through route between New York and Boston by rail: that work was accomplished some years after.

The express business between these cities fell into the hands of Mr. Brigham in 1840; and soon after of Burke & Co., Burke & Adams, W. B. Dinsmore (1841), Adams & Co., Harnden & Co.; and was extended to other places by Gay & Co. (1842); Wells & Co. (1845), Livingston & Fargo (1847). Mr. Harnden died in 1847, after the hard labors of several years, leaving his family in indigent circumstances.

XXI. — PHILIP HONE OF NEW YORK.

1781–1851.

Mr. Hone was a native of New York, and had resided there, except during temporary absences in Europe, all his life. He was an alderman for a long time, and in 1825–6 became the mayor of the city. But his most useful services to the community were rendered as a member of various benevolent and literary institutions. He was an active manager of many important charities; and in all public undertakings he at all times took a strong and practical interest. He was one of the earliest and firmest friends of the Mercantile Library Association; and his bust, executed in marble at the request of the society, adorns the large room of the library in Astor Place. Having been retired from business for a long while, and with an ample fortune, it was in his power to devote his leisure time to the furtherance of objects of general interest and concern. When Gen. Taylor came into the office of President, Mr. Hone was appointed Naval Officer of the port, and was in the discharge of the duties of that office at the time of his death. Mr. Hone died in 1851, aged seventy years, having a high reputation for integrity, benevolence, and intellect.

XXII. — WALTER R. JONES OF NEW YORK.

1793–1855.

Walter Restored Jones was born at Cold Spring, near Oyster Bay, on the north side of Long Island, on the 15th April, 1793. At the tender age of eleven years, he came up to town, and was placed in the store of his oldest brother, William H. Jones, then engaged in the flour business. In his brother's office the future underwriter acquired his first insight into the principles and modes of business, — his true school. A few years later he was introduced into the office of the United-States Insurance Co., as clerk, where he became remarkable for his habits of method and industry, and his attention to the principles of insurance; laying a firm basis for his future eminence in the province of underwriting, requiring caution, accuracy, precision, and promptness. Mr. Jones, in his private and personal character, was a kind and unpretending man, affable and sincere. He died April 7, 1855, highly respected throughout the community, aged sixty-two years.* He was president of the Atlantic Marine Insurance

Co. of New York, an institution whose extensive business and high character are largely owing to his labors and energy and talents.

XXIII.— JAMES GORE KING OF NEW YORK.

1791–1853.

James Gore King was the third son of Rufus King. He was born in the city of New York, May 8, 1791. At five years of age he was taken to England, to which country his father was appointed Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary by Washington, in 1796. Before the son had reached his seventh year, he was placed in a select boarding-school of high reputation at Kensington Gravel-Pits, near London; and there he remained, making satisfactory progress, until 1801. In 1803, when Chancellor Livingston, then American Minister in Paris, was about to return to the United States, he took with him our young student, that he might finish his studies at home. He entered Harvard University in 1806, and graduated from it with honor in 1810. He commenced almost immediately the study of law as his future profession. After studying some months he went to the law-school at Litchfield, and, under the instruction of Tappan Reeve and Judge Gould, completed his education as a lawyer. In 1818 he went to Liverpool, and, with his brother-in-law, A. Gracie, established the house of King & Gracie. In 1824 he left England, leaving behind him an enviable name and reputation for urbanity, intelligence, promptness, and integrity. Mr. King was a member of the firm of Prime, Ward, & King, New York, and afterwards established, in 1847, the well known banking-house of James G. King & Sons. In 1838, soon after the bank suspension of 1837, Mr. King went to London, and obtained the loan of £1,000,000 in gold, with the aid of Baring Brothers & Co., in aid of the resumption of specie payments. In the year 1848, Mr. King represented the northern or fifth district of New Jersey, in Congress. Mr. King was suggested to President Fillmore as Secretary of the Treasury, but declined, in advance, to accept any public position. He died at his residence on Hoboken Heights, N. J., Oct. 3, 1853, aged sixty-two years.*

XXIV.— ABBOTT LAWRENCE OF MASSACHUSETTS.

1792–1855.

Abbott Lawrence was born in the year 1792. At the age of sixteen he entered the store of his brother Amos, at 39 Cornhill, Boston. A connection in business followed, and the acquisition, at last, of great wealth, — a million and a half or two millions of dollars, — by merchandise and manufactures. He assisted in establishing the cities of Lowell, Lawrence, and Manchester. He was several years a member of Congress. The office of Secretary of the Navy, offered him by Pres. TAYLOR, he declined. He was our minister to England in the year 1849, and in subsequent years. He gave $50,000 to Harvard College to found a scientific school, and bequeathed a like sum in aid of the same.* He married, in 1819, Katharine, daughter of TIMOTHY BIGELOW, and left three sons and two daughters. Of his several brothers, only Samuel survived him. Although an attendant at Brattle-street Church in Boston, his friends, or some of them, did not regard him as in his faith a Unitarian. ABBOTT LAWRENCE died August 18, 1855, aged sixty-three years.

XXV.—CORNELIUS VAN WYCK LAWRENCE OF NEW YORK.

1791–1861.

CORNELIUS VAN WYCK LAWRENCE was born Feb. 28, 1791. He was a representative in Congress from 1832 to 1834; the first mayor of New York, elected by the people, 1834–36; collector of the port of New York, 1845–49; and for many years president of the Bank of the State of NEW YORK, from 1836 to 1845, and again from 1849 till 1856. Mr. LAWRENCE died Feb. 20, in the year 1861, at Flushing, L.I., aged seventy years.

XXVI.—DAVID LEAVITT OF NEW YORK.

DAVID LEAVITT was born in Bethlehem, Litchfield County, Conn., Aug. 29, 1791. He came to New York in the year 1808, and obtained a situation as clerk in the retail dry-goods store of J. & W. YOUNG. He remained in this position only a few months, leaving it to enter the employment of HUMPHREY & WHITNEY, wholesale grocers, where he continued till the breaking out of the war in 1812. He returned to New York in 1815, and entered into partnership with DAVID LEE, in the wholesale grocery business. Mr. LEAVITT had $5,000 capital, and LEE $2,000. In 1825 Mr. LEAVITT became the president of the Brooklyn White Lead Co., and from that year to 1839 he was also engaged in the business of a private banker. In 1839 he was elected president of the American Exchange Bank, New York. In 1841 he was appointed receiver of the property and effects of the North-American Trust and Banking Company, a position of very great importance. Mr. LEAVITT went to EUROPE in 1844, to negotiate the Illinois Canal loan of $1,600,000. He negotiated the loan on favorable terms, and was afterwards appointed treasurer of the Board of Trustees of the Illinois and Michigan Canal. In 1854 Mr. LEAVITT retired from active business, and has since lived at Great Barrington, Berkshire County, Mass., in the enjoyment of ample wealth.

XXVII. — NICHOLAS LONGWORTH OF OHIO.

1782–1863.

Mr. LONGWORTH, an American vine-grower and horticulturist, was born in Newark, N.J., Jan. 16, 1782. Young LONGWORTH'S childhood was passed in comparative indulgence; and, when yet a boy, he went to SOUTH CAROLINA as clerk for an older brother: but, the climate proving unfavorable to his health, he returned to Newark, and resolved to study law. In 1803 he emigrated to the region known as the North-West Territory; and, fixing upon the little village of Cincinnati as his residence, he continued his legal studies in the office of Judge JACOB BURNETT. His practice as a lawyer was moderately lucrative. He had, for some years, given much attention to the cultivation of the grape. In 1828 he withdrew from the practice of the law, and commenced experiments upon the adaptation of native grapes to the production of wine. He had two hundred acres of vineyards, and extensive wine-vaults near the city of Cincinnati. He also purchased wine and grape-juice in large quantities, to be converted by his processes, into the wines of commerce. In private life Mr. LONGWORTH was genial and kindly, but rather eccentric. At his death, which was February 10, 1863, his property was inventoried at nearly fifteen millions of dollars.

XXVIII. — ROBERT MORRIS OF PENNSYLVANIA.

1734–1806.

ROBERT MORRIS was born Jan. 20, 1734, in Lancashire, ENGLAND. When he was thirteen years of age, his father brought him to this country. About 1749, he was placed in the counting-house of CHARLES WILLING, an eminent merchant of Philadelphia, after whose death Mr. MORRIS was taken into partnership by THOMAS WILLING. In 1776 he was a member of Congress from PENNSYLVANIA; and his name is affixed to the Declaration of Independence. In the beginning of 1781 he was intrusted with the management of the finances; and the services which in this station he rendered to his country were of incalculable value, being assisted by GOUVERNEUR MORRIS. It was owing in a great degree to him that the decisive operations of the campaign of 1781 were not impeded or completely defeated from the want of supplies. He resigned his office, after holding it about three years. In his old age, he engaged in land speculations, by which he lost his whole fortune, and was confined in prison for debt. He was offered the post of Secretary of the Treasury in 1789; but declined it, and suggested ALEXANDER HAMILTON for the office. Mr. MORRIS died May 8, 1806, aged seventy-two years.

XXIX. — GEORGE PEABODY.

1795–1869.

George Peabody was born in Danvers, Mass., Feb. 18, 1795. He was descended from Francis Peabody, who left England in 1635, and settled in Topsfield, Mass. At the age of eleven, George Peabody was apprenticed to a country storekeeper named Proctor, in Danvers, where he remained until he was fifteen. In 1811, he went as clerk in a dry-goods store, in Newburyport, opened by his brother David. On the breaking out of the war in 1812, young Peabody, at the age of eighteen, joined a volunteer company, and did active garrison duty at Fort Warburton. In 1827, Mr. Peabody visited Europe for the first time; and afterwards his mercantile connections with that country called for his presence there at frequent intervals. In 1843, he retired from the house of Peabody, Riggs, & Co. of Baltimore, and established himself in London, as a merchant and banker. In this position Mr. Peabody soon established a character for business integrity. In 1851, he furnished the means for properly fitting up the American department at the Crystal Palace. In 1852, he subscribed $10,000 to fit out the Kane Arctic Expedition in search of Sir John Franklin. In the same year, he presented to his native place $20,000, to celebrate its centennial anniversary. He subsequently donated over £500,000 to trustees for the benefit of the poor of London, — a munificent gift, that has already accomplished great good.

"Nullum quod tetigit non ornavit."

Mr. Peabody died in London, on Thursday, Nov. 4, 1869, aged seventy-four years.

Mr. Peabody's life was an impressive homily from beginning to end. It was full of the most timely lessons enforced upon society, not by words, but by deeds. He has rebuked the narrow sectarianism of the day by his display of "good will to men," quite irrespectively of their religious differences. He has illustrated in his own history how it is possible to combine with ardent patriotism a breadth of sympathy extending beyond merely national limits. He has set an example of wise philanthropy capable of being imitated on the largest scale, without undermining the self-reliant spirit of the poor. Above all, he has taught us the true uses of wealth: on what conditions it should be held by its proprietors, in what ways it may be fruitfully employed, and what durable honor and happiness it may be made to achieve for the comparative few to whom it is given. Rich and poor alike may contemplate his career with practical advantage. London, especially, will keep alive his memory with grateful admiration; and, let us trust, his name, emblazoned by his works, will exercise a talismanic influence in persuading the prosperous to recognize their responsibilities, and to do what good their hands can find to do whilst they yet live to superintend and rejoice in the effects of their beneficence.

XXX. — THOMAS H. PERKINS OF MASSACHUSETTS.

1764–1854.

Thomas Handasyd Perkins was born in Boston, Dec. 15, 1764. As a merchant, he acquired a fortune of $2,000,000, considered a princely sum in the nineteenth century. He had an early partnership with his brother James, in the trade of the North-west Coast, Canton, and Calcutta. He was a man of public spirit and of great liberality; and several splendid charitable institutions were founded by his munificence. The "Perkins Asylum for the Blind," the "Mercantile Library Association," and the "Boston Athenæum," shared largely by his bounty. He gave his own private residence in Boston for the former.

"Di tibi divitias dederunt, artemque fruendi."

In 1842 he made a speech on laying the "corner-stone of the Merchants' Exchange.* He died, January 10, 1854, at Brookline, near Boston, at the advanced age of ninety years. A company of the blind pupils of the Asylum attended his funeral.

XXXI. — SAMUEL SLATER OF RHODE ISLAND.

1768–1835.

Samuel Slater was born June 9, 1768. He was the father of the cotton manufactures of the United States. The first manufactory in this country was built by him in Pawtucket, R.I. Mr. Slater arrived in New York the latter part of November, 1789, after a tedious passage of sixty-six days. In 1790, he commenced the manufacture of cotton by hand-machinery, at Pawtucket, R.I.

In this place they continued the spinning until the subsequent erection, in 1793, of what is called the Old Mill. The increase of his business induced him to send for his brother, who reached this country in 1805 or 1806. Soon after his arrival, a new establishment was projected, located in Smithfield, R.I.; and the village which in consequence sprang up is called Slaterville. For more than twenty years from the time of his brother's arrival, Mr. Slater's prosperity was uninterrupted.† The war of 1812 placed the seal upon his high destiny. The early establishment and advancement of cotton manufactures in this country were largely owing to his talents and energy. Mr. Slater died in 1835, aged sixty-seven years.

XXXII. — ROBERT G. SHAW OF MASSACHUSETTS.

1775–1853.

Robert G. Shaw was born 1775. For fifty-six years he was a prominent merchant in Boston. He was also president of the "Eye and Ear Infirmary," and noted for his wealth and benevolence. He died May 3, 1853, aged seventy-eight years.

XXXIII. — ROBERT L. STEVENS OF NEW YORK.

1787–1856.

Robert L. Stevens was born in the year 1787. He was remarkable for his inventive powers. His father, John Stevens, was connected with John Fitch in the improvement of navigation by steam on the Hudson River. His inventions were numerous and important. He died April 20, 1856, and said to have been worth two millions of dollars. His extensive investments in real estate at Hoboken, N.J., proved highly profitable; this place being now one of the populous suburbs of New-York city.

XXXIV. — THOMAS TILESTON OF NEW YORK.

1796–1864.

Mr. Tileston was born in Boston, April 13, 1796. At the age of thirteen, he apprenticed himself to a printer in his native city, and subsequently became a partner in the firm. In 1818, he formed a business relation with Mr. Paul Spofford, then of Haverhill, for the sale of boots and shoes. In 1822, the firm became the agents of the Boston and New-York line of packets, —

"Sibi uni fortunam debet," afterwards extending this enterprise to the South American and Cuba trade. In 1850, the firm of Spofford & Tileston became the owners of a popular line of packet-ships between New York and Liverpool. In 1840, he was elected President of the Phenix Bank, New York, which position he held till his death, Feb. 29, 1864. He was for several successive years chairman of the Clearing-House Association at New York, and for many years was a leading spirit in the Atlantic Marine Insurance Company. He was widely known and highly appreciated in this community. His senior partner of many years, Mr. Paul Spofford, died at New York, Oct. 28, 1869, at the age of seventy-five years.

XXXV. — CORNELIUS VANDERBILT.

Cornelius Vanderbilt, familiarly known as Commodore Vanderbilt, has been a resident of New York for many years. He was born on Staten Island, May 27, 1794.* He commenced business-life as captain of a ferry-boat, and by successful movements obtained control of steamboat lines to New Brunswick, to Albany, and other places. He has of late years invested largely in railroad shares, and has gained control of the New-York and Harlem Railroad, the Hudson-River Railroad, and the New-York Central Railroad, which three corporations are now merged in one, of which he is the president and manager.

During the late rebellion, Commodore Vanderbilt presented to the general government, for active use, a first-class steamer, known as "The Vanderbilt," and valued at seven hundred thousand dollars.

Commodore Vanderbilt, now at the mature age of seventy-five, is actively engaged in the management of a large property valued at many millions of dollars.

Merchants. — I am wonderfully delighted to see a body of men thriving in their own fortunes, and at the same time promoting the public stock; or, in other words, raising estates for their own families, by bringing into their country whatever is wanting; and carrying out of it whatever is superflous. Nature seems to have taken a particular care to disseminate her blessings among the different regions of the world with an eye to their mutual intercourse and traffic among mankind, that the nations of the several parts of the globe might have a kind of dependence upon one another, and be united together by their common interest. — Addison.

Merchants. — There are not more useful members in a commonwealth than merchants. They knit mankind together in a mutual intercourse of good offices; distribute the gifts of nature; find work for the poor, and wealth to the rich, and magnificence to the great. . . .

Trade, without enlarging the British territories, has given us a kind of additional empire; it has multiplied the number of the rich; made our landed estates infinitely more valuable than they were formerly; and added to them an accession of other estates as valuable as the estates themselves. — Addison.

Commerce. — An unrestrained intercourse between the States themselves will advance the trade of each, by an interchange of their respective productions, not only for the supply of reciprocal wants at home, but for the exportation to foreign markets. The veins of commerce in every part will be replenished, and will acquire additional motion and vigor, from a free circulation of the commodities of every part. Commercial enterprise will have much greater scope from the diversity in the productions of different States. When the staple of one fails, from a bad harvest or unproductive crop, it can call to its aid the staple of another. The variety, not less than the value of products for exportation, contributes to the activity of foreign commerce. — Hamilton (Federalist).

STEINWAY & SONS,

MANUFACTURERS OF

Grand, Square, and Upright Pianofortes,

HAVE BEEN AWARDED

THE FIRST

GRAND GOLD MEDAL

OF HONOR,

AT THE

Exposition Universelle

PARIS, 1867,

for American Grand, Square, and Upright Pianos, this medal being distinctly classified first in order of Merit over all other American exhibitors, and over more than 400 Pianos entered by nearly all the celebrated manufacturers of Europe. In proof of which the following OFFICIAL CERTIFICATE of the President and Members of the International Jury on Musical Instruments (Class X) is subjoined:

PARIS, July 20, 1867.

I certify that the FIRST GOLD MEDAL for American Pianos has been unanimously awarded to Messrs. Steinway, of New York, by the Jury of the International Exposition.

First on the List in Class X.

MELINET, President of International Jury.
M. FETIS, Reporter of International Jury.
GEORGES KASTNER, AMBROISE THOMAS, ED. HANSLICK, P. A. GEVAERT, J. SCHIEDMAYER, } Members of the International Jury.

This unanimous decision of the International Class Jury, endorsed by the Supreme Group Jury, and affirmed by the Imperial Commission, being the final verdict of the only tribunal determining the rank of the awards at the Exposition, places The Steinway Pianos at the head of all others.

Extract from the Official Report of the International Jury, published by the Imperial Commission in August, 1868, and comparing the relative merits of the Pianos of the two great American exhibitors:

"The Pianos of Messrs. Steinway & Sons are equally endowed with the splendid sonority of their competitor; they also possess that seizing largeness and volume of tone hitherto unknown, which fills the greatest space. Brilliant in the treble, singing in the middle, and formidable in the bass, this sonority acts with irresistible power on the organs of hearing. In regard to expression, delicate shading, variety of accentuation, the instruments of Messrs. Steinway have over those of their American competitor an advantage which cannot be contested. The blow of the hammer is heard much less, and the pianist feels under his hands an action pliant and easy, which permits him at will to be powerful or light, vehement and graceful. These pianos are at the same time the instrument of the virtuoso who wishes to astonish by the eclat of his execution, and of the artist who applies his talent to the music of thought and sentiment bequeathed to us by the illustrious masters; in one word, they are, at the same time, the pianos for the concert-room and the parlor, possessing an unexceptionable sonority."

In addition to the above Steinway & Sons have received

THE GRAND AND ONLY TESTIMONIAL MEDAL;

Also, Honorary Membership from

SOCIETE DES BEAUX ARTS, PARIS, 1867,

for the highest degree of perfection, most valuable inventions, and as exhibited the greatest progress in the art of Piano-making, above all other exhibitors, at the Universal Exposition in Paris.

GRAND HONORARY GOLD MEDAL OF MERIT,

With the Crown and Ribbon from His Majesty King Charles XV. of Sweden and Norway.

The Royal Academies of Sciences and Arts of Berlin and Stockholm have conferred Academical Honors upon Messrs. Theodore and William Steinway for their valuable inventions and manifold improvements in Pianos.

FIRST PRIZE MEDAL, International Exhibition, London, 1862.

THIRTY-FIVE FIRST PREMIUMS, from 1855 to 1862, inclusive, since which time Steinway & Sons have not entered their Pianofortes at any Local Fair in the United States.

A National Religious Newspaper.

"THE ADVANCE."

OUT-SPOKEN,

WIDE-AWAKE,

CHARITABLE.

"I regard 'The Advance' as standing fairly on the highest ground yet reached by religious journals in this country. . . . It is vivacious, various, and genial."—Rev. Henry Ward Beecher.

"'The Advance' is one of the ablest, best, and most outspoken religious journals published."—Dr. Horace Bushnell.

"I am delighted with the bold, manly tone of 'The Advance.'"—Hon. J. A. Garfield.

"I read 'The Advance' regularly, and with interest."—Hon. Schuyler Colfax.

"An admirable paper."—Rev. T. L. Cuyler.

Two years ago the first number of "The Advance" was published. Its conspicuous success in so short a time has had no precedent. In twenty-four months it has attained a circulation and an influence rarely reached after many years of effort; and its repute has far outrun its circulation. From the first it has been received with marked cordiality by Christians of all evangelical creeds, and its large constituency is confined to no one denomination.

"The Advance," in common with several other papers of its class, is standing proof that Solemn Dulness and Heavy Mediocrity are not necessary characteristics of Religious Journalism, and that in avoiding these it is not needful to go to the opposite extreme of flippancy and sensationalism. It is courteous and charitable toward all; elevated and cheerful in tone; spirited, but not frivolous; readable and entertaining, but not flashy and insincere. It endeavors to discuss the living questions of the time in a spirit of perfect candor and fairness, and from a standpoint of complete independence. While, in its various departments, it covers the whole field of human interests, it yet keeps the Religion of Christ uppermost and foremost; while not neglecting the affairs of this world, it does not forget that it has mainly to do with the infinite concerns of the Human Soul. Believing that Common Sense is a powerful ally of Christian truth, "The Advance" aims to bring that element to the front, and make it do duty in every good cause.

The leading features of "The Advance," which have given it distinctive character wherever known, will be continued and improved.

Its Editorials discuss live subjects in a fearless and outspoken way, avoid profitless sectarian controversies, and maintain an attitude of investigation on all open subjects.

Its contributions cover a wide range of topics, and among its contributors are many of the soundest thinkers and ablest writers of our time, such as,--

Rev. Horace Bushnell, D.D.,	Rev. Henry Ward Beecher,	Rev. L. W. Bacon,
Prof. S. C. Bartlett, D.D.,	Rev. J. P. Thompson, D.D.,	President G. F. Magoun, D.D.,
President J. H. Fairchild, D.D.,	Rev. T. K. Beecher,	Hon. Henry Wilson,
Hon. Amasa Walker,	Rev. J. P. Gulliver, D.D.,	Rev. C. D. Helmer,
Phœbe Cary,	Rev. Arthur Mitchell,	Miss S. J. Pritchard,
Mary E. Atkinson,	Rev. Joseph Haven, D.D.,	Miss E. Stuart Phelps,
Frances A. Shaw,	Geo. F. Root,	Rev. T. M. Post, D.D.,
Frances Cole,	Rev. J. M. Sturtevant, D.D.,	Mrs. E. Cady Stanton,
Hon. Lyman Trumbull,	Gen. C. H. Howard,	Alice Carey,
Mrs. Edward A. Walker,	Mrs. S. E. Henshaw,	Prof. E. A. Andrews, M.D.
Mrs. Julia P. Ballard,	"Grace Greenwood,"	Rev. J. E. Rankin,
Nathan Sheppard,	Frances L. Pratt,	Lewis Tappan.

Aiming, as it does, to be a complete Religious Family Journal, "The Advance" has something in its columns for every member of the household. The Agricultural, Scientific, and Literary departments are carefully and ably edited; the Children's page is particularly full and interesting; a column is regularly devoted to the Sunday-school interest, and another to Temperance Reform.

The Secular Department of "The Advance," embracing editorials on the Political, Financial, and Industrial questions of the time, full Market Reports, and synopsis of Current News, supplemented by occasional articles from such men as Senator Wilson, Hon. Amasa Walker, and Gen. James A. Garfield, really covers the ground of a first-class Secular paper.

Until further notice, "The Advance," by special arrangement with the publishers of "Plymouth Pulpit," will contain abridgments of Rev. Henry Ward Beecher's best current sermons.

"The Advance" reaches almost all parts of the country, including New England, on Friday of publication week. Sample copies, with premium list, will be sent free on application.

Terms, $2.50 per year. To Clergymen of all denominations, $2.00.

HURD & HOUGHTON'S editions of Dickens's Works are the only complete ones in the market, and the different styles in which they are presented enable every buyer to consult his individual taste.

THE

WORKS OF CHARLES DICKENS.

HURD & HOUGHTON, Publishers,
459 BROOME STREET, NEW YORK.

The Household Edition.

Illustrated from Drawings by F. O. C. Darley and John Gilbert. "The American Notes" contains a finely engraved portrait of Dickens, from a late photograph, and a view of Gad's Hill, his present residence.

This edition, long the favorite of the public, was the first one published which recognized the demand for a uniform and elegant series of the works of the great novelist. It has steadily grown in favor, and has been universally acknowledged to be the most convenient and beautiful specimen of a standard and social work ever published in this country. The size of the volumes, quality of the paper, the type and binding, are both excellent in themselves and harmoniously appropriate; while the spirited and graphic illustrations by Darley, translating the scenes into American idiom, and the graceful drawings by John Gilbert, give an artistic finish to the work. The volumes are, in fact, the handiest and most readable ever published, being perfectly adapted to the eye and the hand. The edition is complete in fifty-four vols. 16mo.

The set in crape cloth, 54 vols.....$67 50	The set in half morocco, gilt top..$135 00
" " half calf, gilt or antique..135 00	Separate vols. in green vellum cloth 1 25

The Riverside Edition,

in typography and quality of paper, is like the "Household Edition," as in these respects the public verdict has been so emphatic in its favor; but in addition to the popular illustrations of Darley and Gilbert, the "Riverside Edition" contains the Illustrations that have appeared in the English edition by Cruikshank, Phiz, Seymour, John Leech, D. Maclise, Marcus Stone, and others, engraved from early impressions on steel by Joseph Andrews. The value of this publication will be understood, when it is considered how rare it is nowadays to obtain copies containing good impressions of the original illustrations. Each work is issued in either one or two volumes, of crown 8vo size, so that the entire works included form a series of twenty-eight volumes, as selected by the author. They are neatly bound in cloth, with cut or uncut edges, as may be desired, or furnished in half calf. In an artistic point of view, this is the richest and most satisfactory illustrated edition of Dickens, since it contains all that the best artists at home and abroad have done in this field, while in mechanical execution and in price, the "Riverside Edition" is more desirable than any yet projected or obtained.

Price, in cloth, per vol.....$2 50	In sets cloth, green or crimson, 28 vols.$69 50
In half calf, extra..... 4 00	" half calf, extra.....112 00

The Globe Edition.

This edition has been issued to meet a want long felt by the public, namely, for a series of Dickens's works, which, while externally worthy of the author's reputation, is at the same time within reach of all classes. The lowest price possible has been set, but not at the cost of beauty or convenience in the volumes, which are 16mo in size, of handy thickness, and printed on fine paper, in large, clear type (long primer). They are also adorned with all the fine designs by Darley and Gilbert which are in the "Household Edition." The series is complete in 14 volumes.

In wine crape cloth, per volume....$1 50	In green crape cloth, the set.....$21 00
	In half calf, gilt or antique.... ...$42 00

Any volume, or the entire set of either of the foregoing editions of Dickens, will be delivered by the Publishers, free of expense, upon the receipt of price annexed.

PRICE, - - - - ONE DOLLAR.

This Chart is on a Sheet 24 x 28 inches, for the Bank or Counting Room.

The "American Gold-Coin Chart," contains facts and figures enough to last at least until next year. In well-arranged tables it presents the highest and lowest prices of Gold for every day, since the suspension of specie payments, and comparison is facilitated by having the same month of each year presented in one table. The exports of specie are also given, weekly, for six years, and annually for seventeen years, together with exchange on London, monthly, since 1859. In addition, and a most valuable feature, the monthly highest and lowest prices of government securities are given for the past ten years. The Chart contains a vast amount of information, in the most accessible form, and is not only valuable, but interesting.—Boston Daily Advertiser.

I. SMITH HOMANS, ESQ.—Dear Sir: Your "Manual for Notaries" is a very useful work for Banks and Notaries, and must also be a valuable assistant to the legal profession, from the fact that the indexing and arrangement are different from those of the text-books.

In preparing a brief on a question of protest lately, I found many important cases in your work which I could not find in the Digests under any heading I could think of.

Important Works for Bankers.

The Merchants and Bankers' Almanac for 1869.

One Volume Octavo, price Two Dollars.

"In Europe, numerous Almanacs are issued, devoted to special subjects, which are not ephemeral productions, but permanent and valuable contributions to the department of art, trade, industry, literature, or pleasure, to which they belong. The nearest approach in completeness to these works, which we have recently seen, is the 'MERCHANTS AND BANKERS' ALMANAC,' prepared by Mr. J. Smith Homans, of New York, Editor of the 'Bankers' Magazine and Statistical Register.' Besides collecting a large body of facts and figures, important to the persons to whom the volume is addressed, it is moreover a creditable specimen of neat and clear typography."—Publishers' Circular, February, 1869.

From a Notary Public.

To the Publisher of the Merchants and Bankers' Almanac.

"I have for several years past used THE MERCHANTS AND BANKERS' ALMANAC, edited by you, and have found it of great service. The Notary of every Bank should have a copy. It enables me to send Notice of Protest to the proper addresses, and by its reliability and accuracy saves the notary from all the risks which he incurs through want of proper information, difficult to obtain outside of this valuable publication.

"I would not be without it on any account.

"CHARLES H. VOORHIS, Notary of First National Bank of Jersey City."

"110, BROADWAY, NEW YORK, July 3, 1867.

"J. SMITH HOMANS, ESQ.,

Dear Sir,—Your manual is a very useful work for Banks and Notaries, and must also be a valuable assistant to the legal profession, from the fact that the indexing and arrangement are different to that of the text books.

"In preparing a brief on a question of protest lately, I found many important cases in your work, which I could not find in the digests under any heading I could think of.

"Yours, &c., ROBERT OWEN, Notary of the Metropolitan National Bank."

From the Bank of Owega.—"I enclose pay for a copy of the Merchants and Bankers' Almanac. It is a very convenient and desirable book for the cashier's desk. Those who do not get one are penny wise and $2 foolish.—E. W. WARNER, Cashier."

From the Branch Bank of Tennessee, Columbia.—"I am delighted with your Magazine, and recommend it to every banker and bank officer who deserves to succeed in his profession. I deem it indispensable to the attainment of a correct view of the principles of good banking."

From the Troy City Bank.—"I think the Bankers' Register grows more interesting as its numbers increase. It is got up with great taste, and edited with much ability. Could some of its 'SUGGESTIONS' have met my eye whilst I was indeed a 'YOUNG CASHIER,' I should have been saved much trouble and mortification, and thousands of money. God speed your invaluable work!—S. K. STOW, Cashier."

The Merchants and Bankers' Almanac. J. Smith Homans.—"It is difficult to imagine a more useful or convenient appendage to any office, in which exchange and money transactions fall within the line of business. The amount, indeed, of valuable information is great, and its arrangement most judicious, and there are some bits of knowledge that we do not remember to have seen in previous publications. Thus, within the compass of thirty pages, is a summary of the laws of each State respecting interest and usury, and elsewhere a list of private bankers in the principal cities and towns of the United States and Canada. Perhaps our eye more naturally wanders to the copious statistics of Great Britain; but the truth is, there is something to be gleaned from every page."—N. Y. Albion.

The Merchants and Bankers' Almanac.—"For a merchant, a mechanic or a farmer, to make himself acquainted with the financial affairs of our country and the world, has heretofore been thought waste time, or about as important as the study of architecture, medicine, or Greek and Hebrew; but let any business-man look over the MERCHANTS AND BANKERS' ALMANAC, published by J. Smith Homans, 70, Wall Street, and he will soon be satisfied that a practical use can be made of the valuable information therein contained. It furnishes a financial review of the past year; a list of all the Banks and Bankers in the country; a statistical history of Great Britain for the past fifty years; a statement of the revenue, expenditures and public debt of the United States; many statistical tables, etc., etc. One volume, octavo, 200 pages."—N. Y. Independent.

XIII. A Numismatic Dictionary, or Collection of the Names of all the Coins known, from the earliest period up to the present time; with their countries, values, multiples, divisions, etc.

"Many excellent works on Banking, and a still greater number of articles on Banking, in magazines and other periodical publications, have appeared in America. We have before us one of no common merit. It is entitled 'A Treatise on Banking—The Duties of a Banker, and his Personal Requisites therefor. By A. B. JOHNSON, President of the Ontario Branch Bank, at Utica, in the State of New York.' The first part—'The Bank'—contains a clear exposition of some important principles of Banking and Currency, and a comparison between the Safety Fund System and the Free Bank System, established in New York. The second part—'The Banker'—is of a highly practical character; and it shows that however widely the banks of England and America may differ in their principles, the fields of their operations, their constitutions, and their privileges, yet the practical operations, the qualifications of their bankers, the dangers to which they are exposed, and the means necessary to success, are much the same in both countries."—London Bankers' Magazine.

(To the author of this Essay was awarded the premium of one hundred dollars.)

IV. On the Best Mode of Extinguishment of the National Debt of the United States. By D. G. SWARTZ, of Lancaster, Pennsylvania.

V. On Sound Principles of Banking. By HENRY V. POOR, of N. Y.

(Of this valuable Essay, one of the Committee says, "The author puts forth his views of currency in a striking, forcible manner. There are many suggestions that might be heeded to advantage at the present time. In fact it is full of substance, and is worthy of the largest circulation. The views are fundamental and timely.")

VI. On the Uses and Functions of Money, with Special Reference and Application to the Currency of the United States. By M. RICHARD LEVERSON, of New York.

VII. On Correct Banking and the Management of a Bank in Detail. By a NATIONAL BANK CASHIER.

(This is an extremely valuable discussion—sensible and plain, especially good for young bankers.)

THE ADDER,

THE ONLY PRACTICAL ADDING MACHINE IN THE WORLD.

"THE ADDER" is the only practical adding machine in the world, for these reasons: It carries its own tens and hundreds, leaving no part of the work to be done by the mind. No long practice is required to understand its working. The mechanism is so simple that there is no likelihood of its getting out of order. Any child that can read figures is competent to perform the most difficult additions by its aid, thus saving the book-keeper's valuable time. Its capacity is only limited by the extent to which numerals go; it carries up any number of columns in a ledger account, two at a time, with mechanical accuracy. The operation being purely mechanical, the mind of the accountant is relieved from the weary strain which extended additions involve. In checking accounts or proving additions the machine becomes invaluable, since it is well known that the accountant is apt to repeat his error in endeavoring to find his mistake. The machine never transposes figures nor sets down the wrong ones. It is not the accountant's rival but his friend, resting him when his brain is wearied, without compelling a cessation of his labors. For entry clerks, lumber dealers, gaugers, weighers, measurers, etc., "THE ADDER" is invaluable, as it gives instantaneous additions as each tally is called. Of the surveyor's equipment it forms a necessary part, giving instantaneous subtractions as well as additions. No school should be without it to illustrate the mechanical principle of "carrying tens." In rain or snow, where paper and pencil would be at a discount, it does its work unharmedly, and the record of its addition is ineffaceable. It can be carried in the breast pocket, being little larger than a good-sized memorandum book. The housekeeper can keep her accounts on it, the business man his daily expenses. No longer an experiment, it has passed into very general use, and has the endorsement of all who have seen or employed it. Do not be discouraged, though you have bought something advertised as an "Adding Machine," and been disappointed. Nothing is claimed for "THE ADDER" in this advertisement which it is not guaranteed to perform. The letters reproduced below will show what some rather eminent men think of the invention. Particular attention is called to the letters from parties in different parts of the country to whom machines have been Expressed. Behind the testimonials, by men who have paid their money and learned the machine by printed instructions alone, it is impossible to go, and that they are sufficiently pleased to volunteer such testimonials is all the praise that need be said of the machine.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK, NEW YORK, March 16th, 1869.

C. H. WEBB, Esq.

DEAR SIR—I consider your very ingenious invention, the "Adder," to be one of the most useful articles of the age.

It is compact and simple, and so accurate, from the principle of its construction, that it cannot by any possibility make a mistake.

It relieves the mind entirely, and reduces arithmetic to a simple motion of the hand. To a great portion of the community I consider it will be, when known, an indispensable article.

S. C. THOMPSON, President.

NATIONAL CURRENCY BANK, No. 2 WALL STREET, NEW YORK, Feb. 2d, 1869.

C. H. WEBB, Esq.

DEAR SIR—Your little "Adder" is, "Facts! facts!! facts!!!" It discovered an error in my books of two years standing, and one thousand dollars, thereby saving me the income tax on that amount. The "Adder" account now stands—Cost, ten dollars; saved, fifty dollars; profit, forty dollars.

It is a positive amusement now to add up a long column, where it was formerly so irksome. The performances of your reptile are, as you say, "Sure as Fate;" and if one cannot snake out a line of figures like a whip-lash he must be indeed stupid.

I keep the one I bought of you in constant use on my desk.

F. F. THOMPSON, President.

NORTH AMERICA LIFE INSURANCE CO., NEW YORK, Dec. 17th, 1868.

C. H. WEBB, Esq.

SIR—We have one of your "Adders," and find it correct in every respect, and that it is of great assistance in proving and adding extended columns.

We recommend its use to accountants and are confident of its success.

H. C. MORGAN, Asst. Sec'y.

HOWE & BELDEN, BANKERS AND BROKERS, NEW YORK, 18th Dec., 1868.

Mr. C. H. WEBB.

DEAR SIR—Your "Adder" gives immense satisfaction, and is in great demand. By its economy of time it takes the place of an additional clerk, while its unfailing accuracy is a source of comfort that is cheaply purchased at the price of the little instrument.

HOWE & BELDEN.

CITY OF NEW YORK, DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE, COMPTROLLER'S OFFICE, March 12th, 1869.

C. H. WEBB, Esq.

DEAR SIR—After continued use of your "Adder" in this office I cheerfully certify to its correctness, and the rapidity with which it evolves the increase and combination of numbers.

H. J. STORRS.

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE,

Of which more than one hundred volumes have been issued, has received the commendation of Judge Story, Chancellor Kent, President Adams, historians Sparks, Prescott, Bancroft, and Ticknor, Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, and many others; and it admittedly "continues to stand at the head of its class."

IT IS ISSUED EVERY SATURDAY,

Giving fifty-two numbers, and more than Three Thousand double-column octavo pages of reading matter, yearly; enabling it to present, with a satisfactory completeness nowhere else attempted, the best Essays, Reviews, Criticisms, Tales, Poetry, Scientific, Biographical, Historical, and Political Information, gathered from the entire body of English periodical literature, and from the pens of the ablest living writers. It forms four handsome volumes a year, of immediate interest and solid permanent value, and is a work which commends itself to every one who has a taste for the best literature of the Magazines and Reviews, or who cares to keep pace with the events or intellectual progress of the time.

THE FOLLOWING EXTRACTS FROM RECENT NOTICES, with those above given, will sufficiently indicate the character and standing of the work:—

From Rev. Henry Ward Beecher.

"Were I, in view of all the competitors that are now in the field, to choose, I should certainly choose THE LIVING AGE. . . . Nor is there, in any library that I know of, so much instructive and entertaining reading in the same number of volumes."

From the Watchman and Reflector, Boston.

"The Nation, (N.Y.) in saying that THE LIVING AGE is "the best of all our eclectic publications," expresses our own views. It is a model which many have attempted to imitate, but by their failure only made its pre-eminent merits more conspicuous."

From the New-York Times.

"The taste, judgment, and wise tact displayed in the selection of articles are above all praise, because they have never been equalled."

From the Boston Journal.

"Amid the multiplicity of publications claiming the attention of readers, few give such solid satisfaction as this periodical."

From the Philadelphia Inquirer.

"A constant reader of 'LITTELL' is ever enjoying literary advantages obtainable through no other source."

From the Philadelphia Press.

"THE LIVING AGE continues to stand at the head of its class."

From the Nation, New York.

"Not only the literature but the politics of Christendom is here placed on record; and the owner of the book has history and criticism, the important facts and the best opinions, bound together and fit for preservation."

From the Round Table, New York.

"There is no other publication which gives its readers so much of the best quality of the leading English magazines and reviews."

From the New-York Tribune.

"The selections always indicate a refined and catholic taste, and a happy art of catering to the popular demands, without lowering the standard of sound literature.

From the New-York Independent.

"No one can read, from week to week, the selections brought before him in THE LIVING AGE, without becoming conscious of a quickening of his own faculties, and an enlargement of his mental horizon."

From the Richmond Whig.

"If a man were to read LITTELL'S magazine regularly, and read nothing else, he would be well informed on all prominent subjects in the general field of human knowledge."

From the Mobile Advertiser and Register.

"LITTELL'S LIVING AGE, although ostensibly the most costly of our periodicals, is really one of the cheapest — if not the very cheapest — that can be had, whether the quality or quantity of the literary matter furnished be considered."

From the Illinois State Journal.

"It has more real solid worth, more useful information, than any similar publication we know of. The ablest essays, the most entertaining stories, the finest poetry, of the English language, are here gathered together."

From the Examiner and Chronicle, New York.

"LITTELL'S LIVING AGE is a living compendium of the thoughts and events of this intensely living age. History, biography, fiction, poetry, wit, science, politics, criticism, art, — what is not here? To take and preserve the weekly numbers of THE LIVING AGE is to have a library in process of substantial growth."

From the Church Union, New York.

"Its editorial discrimination is such as ever to afford its readers an entertaining résumé of the best current European magazine literature, and so complete as to satisfy them of their having no need to resort to its original sources. In this regard, we deem it the best issue of its kind extant."

From the Chicago Daily Republican.

"LITTELL'S LIVING AGE is the oldest, and by far the best, concentration of choice periodical literature printed in this country. It occupies a field filled by no other periodical. The subscriber to LITTELL finds himself in possession, at the end of the year, of four large volumes of such reading as can be obtained in no other form, and comprising selections from every department of science, art, philosophy, and belles-lettres. Those who desire a thorough compendium of all that is admirable and noteworthy in the literary world will be spared the trouble of wading through the sea of reviews and magazines published abroad; for they will find the essence of all compacted and concentrated here."

REED & BARTON,

Manufacturers of the Finest Quality of

Electro-Plated Ware,

Established at TAUNTON, MASS., 1824.

AT THE

AMERICAN INSTITUTE FAIRS,

Held in New York in 1867 and 1869, and at the

MECHANICS' FAIR,

Held in Boston in 1869,

REED & BARTON

RECEIVED THE HIGHEST PRIZES

Over all Competitors for SILVER-PLATED WARE. The Ware exhibited by them was Entirely of their Own Manufacture, and consisted of Specimens of nearly every Variety of Table-Ware in use.

They would call the attention of Buyers to the following Extract from the

JUDGES' REPORT:

"The Judges are warranted in pronouncing this display of Ware to be of Superior Merit, unsurpassed in Quality and Style. The Durability of REED & BARTON'S Ware has so long been known to the Judges, that they feel it their duty to accord to them the position of
